

Story-Dance Time

~dance ~play ~imagine ~tell stories ~learn together

Children (along with their parents/caregivers) are invited to dance and use their imaginations to act out a story in this one-hour event led by teaching artist, Susan Paino. Story-Dance Time is interactive - at times, everyone will be up and moving. The program combines foundational dance skills, natural movement, story-telling with music, and activities to promote reading-readiness.

Goals and Objectives

- ~Joy through natural/creative movement, dance, and story-telling
- ~Self-awareness and self-control
- ~Practice with listening, responding, taking turns, cooperation, and sharing
- ~Opportunities for self-expression, making choices, and discoveries

- Fee: $150 for a one-time event; fees are adjusted for multiple or recurring events
- The size of the group depends upon the size of the event space.
- Formal activities last 45 minutes plus 15 minutes of open play time when everyone is welcome to check out the musical instruments and hands-on materials.

Event space requirements:

- open space to allow for large-group movement
- electrical outlet
- small to medium sized table
